APPLICATION

About the Tom Grove and Betty Sheeks Law Social Action Internship

The Tom Grove and Betty Sheeks Law Social Action Internship was established in 2000 by Betty Sheeks Law, a 1942 economics graduate, and her husband Ed Law, to reward and encourage “someone with a passion for social action” and “someone who can be an agent of change.” It is named for Betty and her first husband, Tom Grove, a 1942 mechanical engineering graduate. In 1972, Mrs. Law added a master’s degree in social work from the University of Minnesota, where through her internship experiences, she gained valuable training and insights that carried over into her professional life.
